

Volunteers seen at Umhlanga beach clean-up were: Margo Reilly, Zakhele Gazu, Yolanda Zungu, Nompilo Ngcobo, Johan Schroeder (Insert) Elisabeth Pretorius (Granada Square property manager) with Dewet Geldenhuys

Help uMhlanga to be clean

The property manager from Granada Square, Elisabeth Pretorius handed over a donation cheque of R5750 towards cleaning up the local environment and specifically helping to make uMhlanga Rocks a cleaner place for locals and visitors.

Pretorius said litter being disposed causes harm to wildlife, marine life and human lives, and it is time to be proactive and start correcting our bad littering habits.

She also added the importance of supporting community business initiatives.

uMhlanga Urban Improvement Precinct (UIP) will use the funds to pay for the staff needed as well as purchasing equipment such as bags, gloves, etc for the volunteers, all of which are needed for a successful clean-up.

Dewet Geldenhuys, the precinct manager for the UIP added, "As with many projects, it is difficult to action work without compensation, and the UIP are most grateful for the support from organisations such as Granada Square and volunteers supporting an initiative such as this."